The Hospice Shoppe Five Wonderful Years and Counting!

If you love shopping in stores where there's always something new, with real bargains and helpful, cheery staff, then the Hospice Shoppe is worth a visit!

The Shoppe opened in 2013 in historic downtown Chatham, and this summer we celebrated our 5th anniversary - and quite a celebration it was! Our MP, Pat Finnegan, our MLA, Bill Fraser, and our Mayor, Adam Lordon all helped us honour the occasion. Cake and refreshments were enjoyed by the large crowd of our loyal clients, volunteers and supporters who attended.

Specializing in quality, lightly enjoyed ladies wear, men's wear, and shoes, the Hospice Shoppe also offers new handmade crafts by our craft group, Helping Hands for Hospice, artisanal soaps, furniture, housewares and decor items. Because our stock is all donated by our generous donors, every day sees new items arriving. And, best of all, all sales are tax-free, making your Hospice Shoppe purchases even more affordable.

Staffed and managed by a team of dedicated volunteers Monday through Saturday, the Shoppe is always being rearranged with fresh new looks we regularly post on our Facebook page. Please "like" us and share our posts to ensure that we keep growing and are able to provide sustainable funding for the essential work that Hospice Miramichi does in our community. All money generated by the Hospice Shoppe goes to funding the programs and services Hospice Miramichi provides, allowing Hospice to offer those programs and services at no cost to our clients. We always need more volunteers, so if you have a few hours a week to spare, please call us!

If you are interested in donating, we accept lightly used and saleable clothing, small furniture and housewares. We will issue a tax receipt for the sale price of the items you donated. Unsold items are in turn donated to another charity so they will always do some good in our community. Call Hospice Miramichi at 773-7607 to get your donor number and drop off your items at 14 Howard Street. That's where another team of dedicated volunteers sorts and prices your items in our distribution centre before delivery to the Hospice Shoppe which is located at 1737 Water Street in historic downtown Chatham.

Giv'er is about enjoying your day, giving it your all, putting some muscle behind it, giving it some gas, all the while staying true to good Miramichi values. Our collaborative mindset is contagious. Send us your good stuff to talk about on the river! We're looking for events, stories, celebrations, pictures and video links about what's up, what's new, what's happening. Keep it clean, keep it positive, and we'll promote it.

Spring Ahead!

Daylight saving time 2019 in Canada will begin at 3 am on Sunday, March 10

Easter - April 21st, 2019

How is the date determined for Easter? On the Gregorian calendar (the one that we use), Easter is the first Sunday after the Paschal full moon, which is the first full moon on or after March 21. Easter thus always falls between March 22 and April 25.

Theoretically, the Paschal full moon is the first full moon occurring on or after the spring equinox. However, this day can be reckoned in different ways. One way is by looking at the sky, which yields the astronomical spring equinox. But since this shifts from year to year, most people follow the calendrical spring equinox, which is reckoned as March 21.

Tips & Tricks for your Hair

By Mary Mitchell, Studio M Hair

I have worked in the beauty industry for more than 30 years, as an educator, consultant, art team member and now a successful salon owner at Studio M Hair. www.mstudiohair.com

I am always happy to teach clients how to create ease of styling and good hair care.

One of the most common questions I get is:

What do I do for colour fade? Do I need colour-safe shampoo and conditioner?

Yes, coloured treated hair always needs colour treated shampoo and conditioner. They are designed to put moisture and protein back into the hair using a higher PH in shampoos to cleanse, moisturize and retain colour, while conditioners moisturize, detangle and lock-in with a lower PH. Colour treated shampoos and conditioners will:

- Mend and protect, making the hair smoother with lots of shine.
- Help restore cuticle damage and keep the vibrancy of your colour with less fading.
- Easy comb outs - always comb hair starting at ends working your way up to the scalp.

Always pick a shampoo, conditioner, leave-in, or treatment according to your type of hair.

Now that your shampoo is done, always protect the hair from excessive heat exposure by using a thermal heat protector from roots to ends. Thermal heat protectors come in sprays, serums and creams. Use what is easy for you and please turn the heat down on your dryers and irons. When you don't protect the hair you can lift colour just by using a hot iron.

Your tools do make a difference!

If investing in new irons or blow dryers, try new technology like infrared heating systems. These new tools can:

- Mend and protect by pushing moisture back into the hair while you style.
- Smooths the cuticle and strengthens the hair in half the styling time.
- Provide ease of styling for comb outs, long lasting soft curls, waves or shiny straight styles.
- Lower heat temperatures to safe-guard colours and leave the hair more conditioned.

Always use a nozzle when blow drying to create air control to reduce frizz. It will smooth, polish and shine your finished style.

A good brush is important, there are many types for many different reasons. Today it is the round brush. A boar hair round brush is the best because it is softer on the hair. Hair against hair is more natural, leaving the hair in better condition, smoother, shiny and with no frizz. The more you polish with boar hair, the better results you will have. It is wise to pick a bigger than smaller size when working at home, the bigger brush will help you manage your hair much easier.

Put More YOU into Your Wedding Day

(Family Features) A wedding day is filled with symbolic tradition, from varied religious customs to the never-ending circle reflected in the rings and the types of flowers accentuating the celebration. Even with all the traditional rituals to consider, nearly every bride and groom can find ways to give their special day some unique touches that reflect their personality and love.

Music sets the mood for every wedding, and it's an easy place to put your own spin on the celebration. Whether you forgo the traditional bridal march entirely or simply look for an arrangement that gives an updated twist to the classic version, let guests know this isn't your average wedding by setting the festivities against a soundtrack that lets your true character shine.

The wedding party is intended to be a collection of those nearest and dearest to the bride and groom, who help ensure the day goes off without a hitch and who lead fellow revelers in celebrating the start of the new couple's life together. That being said, there's no reason this group must be limited to women on her side and guys on his, or even that it's limited to humans – a beloved pooch can make for an adorable ring-bearer, after all.

Photos lend a personal touch, no matter what your color scheme or theme. Integrate photos of the two of you at various stages of life, together as a couple and with loved ones (perhaps even some you're honoring in memoriam). You can display these at a table with the guest book, as part of the table centerpieces, or even on the gift table. Or take things digital and load all your images into a slide show set to music.

Make favors meaningful. Forgo more common items like bubbles and chocolate, and instead send a little of yourself home with your guests. Maybe it's a memento from a place with special meaning to you both, or a bottle opener shaped like a bicycle to represent the way you met. Just think about the moments and things that define you as a couple and do some searching online. You'll probably be surprised by how quickly the options pile up.

Serve up a menu that shows guests more about your life together. Your loved ones can order basic beef or chicken anywhere. Instead, give them a glimpse into you. Make your main course the same food you enjoyed on your first date or during another monumental moment in your courtship. Or plan the entire menu around a region that you hold close to your heart.

Weddings are filled with traditions, but that doesn't mean you can't put your own touches on the day for a special event filled with memories that are uniquely your own. Find more advice for life's special moments at www.elivingtoday.com.

Take a Book - Leave a Book at the Free Community Library

A new community-based library has been installed recently at Blackville Foodland. This is a free library for the community and is based on the “Little Free Library” project.

The library belongs to everyone and contains a variety of books for children and adults, fiction and non-fiction. If you see a book you would like to read, take it and return it when you are finished – you do not need to sign it out. Or if you want to keep it, you can return a different title in its place.

The library is located at the front of the store near the soup nook. The library was brought to fruition by Blackville Foodland managers Naomi and Clem Savoie, Les McLaughlin and Roland Sturgeon.

If you would like to donate more than one book, please contact library@villageofblackville.com for details.

A Book Review by James Fisher, Miramichi Reader

Through Sunlight and Shadows

by Raymond Fraser

Sadly, Through Sunlight and Shadows would prove to be Raymond Fraser's swan song, as he passed away just a few short months after its publication. It is his fourteenth book of fiction and is an all-new volume of "memoirs" of his fictional/semi-autobiographical character, Walt Macbride. While regular readers of Mr. Fraser's will be familiar with Walt in all his manifestations, his youngest days growing up in Bannonbridge (an alias for Chatham, NB) are lesser-known. Here, he begins at his earliest recollections:

"I really don't know what age I was during the times of my earliest memories. I don't know the age I was when I learned what age I was or when I did learn when it meant something to me other than a reply if someone asked me. I certainly had no notion early on of what a calendar constituted. All it was to me was a nice picture on the wall with mysterious markings beneath it."

So you can see that Mr. Fraser starts his (Walt's) recollections very early on. While living in the town of Bannonbridge ("the greatest place in the world to grow up in"), his house had no running water, no plumbing and no central heating other than a wood stove. The youngest of three, he had two older sisters. They shared half of a house with the Flynn's who had 10 children, so Walt was never short of friends and playmates.

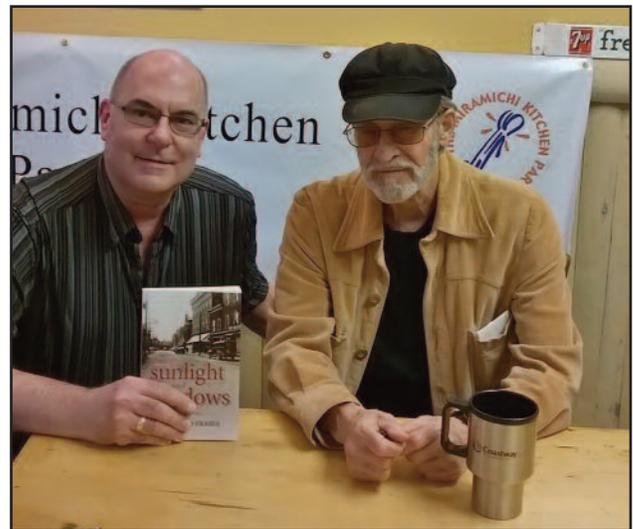

Later on, Walt reflects on childhood vs. adulthood:

"A couple of years later, when I'd learned to read, I loved to lie abed on Saturday mornings and read the stack of comic books that I'd traded for with my friends. It was such a luxuriously happy thing to do....Saturday morning, no school, no getting up when I wanted to sleep in, nothing to do but lie in bed and immerse myself in one comic after another.... You just don't get that depth of happiness as a grown-up. It's a gift children have, pure joy with no price to pay. In my experience, adult happiness is invariably a prelude to some calamity or other."

While Through Sunlight and Shadows is full of growing up in a simpler time and is full of boyhood antics like climbing on roofs, making tomahawks to fight a mock war with the kids over on Victoria Street, learning to skate with dull, centuries-old skates and so on, it certainly makes for some genuine and inner-directed reading, even if you grew up in a later time period, such as I did. When I read of Walt getting his first new bike (a tricycle), I can think back and vaguely recall my own trike and a seven-year-old Walt being given a new baseball by a college student was a real treat.

"I was so proud of that ball. I kept it for years and never once used it. I don't know what I was saving it for, but I saved it. It was like getting a piece of the Holy Cross to me."

Then I look at kids today who have expensive hockey sticks, baseball gloves, skates worth hundreds of dollars, snowmobiles, dirt bikes and four-wheelers, I wonder if they have missed out on something growing up. Do they appreciate all they are given? My family was considered middle-class in the sixties when I grew up. I was given the basics, but I had to earn an allowance and learn to save up if I wanted something. Or get an after-school job when I was older. I never learned to save, and I have more than I need, really. I'm at the stage of life when I need to downsize, but it's so hard to let go of things. They keep my memories alive.

You can see how reflective Mr. Fraser has induced me to be. I'm sure all mature readers will appreciate Through Sunlight and Shadows. It makes a nice companion for the memoirs of fellow Miramicher Wayne Curtis who grew up in a more rural setting in roughly the same time period. Walt Macbride becomes a colourful character as he grows up and deals with school, girls, college, getting a job and battling his addiction to alcohol and trying to become a writer. They all make for good reading and knowing they are heavily based on Mr. Fraser's actual life experiences, it makes them all the more valuable.

James M. Fisher is the owner and editor of The Miramichi Reader, which promotes Canadian literature, and primarily that arising out of Canada's vibrant east coast literary scene. For more book reviews and author interviews visit www.miramichireader.ca

Free Trail Pass at Miramichi Cross Country Ski Club with a NB Library Card

The Miramichi Cross Country Ski Club has teamed up with local libraries to offer everyone with a New Brunswick library card the opportunity to check out a day pass for the club's ski and snowshoe trails. You can visit one of the three libraries in our area (Newcastle Public, Chatham Public and Carrefour Beausoleil) and request the pass. If you do not have a library card you can easily get one.

The trail pass can be redeemed that day or at a future date and includes skis or snowshoes at no charge. With 25 km of ski trails and 6 km of snowshoe trails you can easily find a trail to your liking. The trails at the club are wooded and thus protected from the wind.

The library program allows for only one use per season per person and each member of a group will need to check out a pass with their library card.

Snowshoeing and cross-country skiing are excellent forms of exercise and winter recreation and this is an opportunity for an introduction to convenient facilities located in the city limits.

The ski club has equipment for rent for all ages from 3 and up and for those aged 1 to 3 there is a sled (pulk) that a toddler may be placed in and pulled by an adult skier but you should be comfortable on skis before trying this.

If you want to redeem the pass it is best to check with the clubhouse to see that we are open - call 622 - 6991 or check our Facebook page or website

www.skimiramichi.com

The trails may not be open at night for a while as the severe windstorm in November caused a great deal of damage to the lighted trail, however repairs will be made.

The ski club is a busy place during the winter and this will be our last winter in our cozy but aging clubhouse as new facilities are planned. The clubhouse is equipped with a washroom, seating area and a kitchen where you can purchase a tea or hot chocolate.

Enjoy winter in 2019 by "checking out" a pass at your library and "checking out" the ski club!

The card is free for New Brunswick residents and landowners. You will need to provide a piece of identification and proof of local address when you register for a card at the library. The signature of a parent or a guardian is necessary for children under 13.

Timber Ship Brewing “We aim to make quality beer and share as much of it as we can with our community.”

Timber Ship Brewing is a small-batch brewery that opened in January in Miramichi. A passion project for four friends in the region, it is the culmination of many months of work that they are thrilled to share with the public.

The Timber Ship Brewing crew consists of 2 couples/friends/beer lovers, Darren and Gillian Row, Jeff and Erin Savage. “It was during a 3 day canoe excursion that we decided to stop just talking about bringing craft beer to Miramichi and started seriously discussing plans about how to make this brewery a reality. Once we returned from the trip we began to move forward and never looked back. The four of us are all full-time professionals and are very goal oriented. We bring our individual strengths and valuable experience to the brewery.

The debut beers from the brewery are Dungarvon

Hopper IPA (6.0% abv, 64 IBU) and Broken Paddle Pale Ale (5.3% abv, 40 IBU), Ballast Island Blonde (5.2% abv, 20 IBU) and Miramichi Irish Red (5.2% abv, 25 IBU) are available on tap at the Piping Plover Gastropub. In January Dungarvon Hopper IPA became available on tap ANBL Newcastle for you to grab a growler to take home and enjoy!

Timber Ship is concentrating on distributing 20 litre kegs to local bars and restaurants for now and who knows, a taproom might be in the future.

Kourabiedes Recipe - Greek Butter Cookies

by Georgia Halavrezos

Kourabiedes are traditional Greek melt in-the-mouth cookies that Georgia makes as a special treat for her family. Kourabiedes resemble light and airy shortbread but are made with the addition of almonds. Almonds are the most important ingredient in Kourabiedes and provide the cookie's signature almond flavour.

Ingredients

1 pound of Unsalted Butter
1 cup of Sifted Icing Sugar
4 Egg Yolks
4 tablespoons of Whiskey or Brandy
4 tablespoons of Freshly Squeezed Orange Juice
1 teaspoon of Almond Extract
2/3 of a cup of Finely Chopped Almonds
4 ½ cups of Sifted Flour (Two cups of All Purpose Flour and Two and a half cups of Cake Flour)
1 teaspoon of Baking Powder
Whole Cloves
Sifted Icing Sugar for dipping the cookies.

Instructions

- Cream butter and one cup of icing sugar until light and fluffy [Five to ten minutes]. Add egg yolks, flavorings and almonds, beating until well blended.
- Gradually add the sifted flours and baking powder.
- Beat until well blended. Pinch off pieces of dough, and roll into small balls.
- Pat gently between your palms and place one inch apart on a ungreased baking sheet.
- Place a whole clove in the center of each cookie.

- Bake in 350 ° F degree oven for ten to fifteen minutes or until cookies are very lightly browned.

Allow to cool slightly before removing from the baking sheet. Transfer to a cookie rack and let cool completely. When cooled completely, dip each individual cookie in sifted icing sugar. Store in sealed cookie tins.

Enjoy!

The Salt Spring National Art Prize Calls to Artists Across the Nation.

Submissions are now open for the prestigious 2019/2020 Salt Spring National Art Prize (SSNAP). Salt Spring, a small Canadian island known for its large artistic community, created this exciting national art competition in 2015 to celebrate and promote the importance of art in Canada. As one of the largest national art prizes in Canada, the third biennial event offers $40,000 in prize money and significant national exposure to artists.

Open to all Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada over the age of 18, the call to artists working in the visual arts runs from January 10 to May 31, 2019. SSNAP offers financial prizes, an artist residency, and national exposure to artists. The month-long exhibition of some 50 finalists and the many associated events enhance public dialogue on art. SSNAP Director Ronald T. Crawford says, “What makes the Prize unique is what has led to its success. It is a community-based event created by artists for artists. It invites established and emerging artists of every medium into the same Canadian artistic dialogue.” The 50 finalists’ works chosen by our national jury are selected through a fair, open and blind jury system.

Crawford further adds, “An exciting change for 2019 is the allocation of $10,000 to subsidize the costs of shipping finalists’ work to Salt Spring to further encourage submissions from artists in eastern Canadian and remote communities. We also aspire to bring the winners across Canada, with the Victoria Art Council Gallery confirmed as our first stop for January 2020.”

Judy Anderson, from Calgary Alberta, retells her experience as a 2017 SSNAP Finalist and Prize Winner; “I applied for SSNAP on a whim. What resulted was an amazing experience, especially the residency on Salt Spring Island. It gave me uninterrupted time to start a new body of work and the island’s art community was incredibly welcoming, inviting me to events such as art critiques, art screenings, studio visits, openings etc.

SSNAP welcomes Canadian artists world-wide to submit original two-dimensional and three-dimensional works, with the call for submissions now open through to May 31, 2019.

For more information about SSNAP, including artist submission and selection process, jury bios and event dates, visit www.saltspringartprize.ca.

Raising Chickens for Beginners

When it comes to chickens there's no in between - people are either really enthusiastic about chickens, or indifferent to them. If you've ever dreamed about having your own chickens and don't know where to start, this article is for you! We talked to the folks at Miramichi Feeds and asked them some common questions about raising chickens.

What are the requirements for a chicken coop?

A chicken coop should provide a place for hens to lay their eggs, to roost at night, and protection from predators. For laying hens you need a minimum of 2 to 3 square feet per chicken. If you are not letting your chickens run loose through the day, you should have a fenced in area for them to run around on the ground.

What kind of wire do I use for their enclosure?

There is a variety of wire available and the size you need depends on the type of predators you are keeping out. If you have a backyard coop in the city you may not need as much protection as someone living in the country surrounded by woods.

Do I need a heat lamp on the chickens?

Only chicks require a heat lamp until they develop their feathers. Grown chickens do not need a heat lamp, even in the winter. Make sure your coop is free of cold drafts and they will be fine.

What do I feed them? Can I feed them table scraps?

Yes you can feed them table scraps. Chickens will eat anything and everything. If you let them free range (run loose in the yard) they will forage for food and eat bugs, grass, weeds, etc and get the nutrients they need naturally. Also provide them with store bought feed to supplement their diet. They will not overeat. They only eat what they need to match their nutritional requirements.

A full grown laying hen that is only given feed and is not foraging will require 125g of feed per day.

Chickens also require fresh water. You can simply give them water in a dog bowl or purchase an automatic waterer. In the winter the water will freeze, so monitor it and provide them with fresh water frequently or heated water bowls are also available.

I heard feeding them crushed eggs is good to give them calcium, is that true?

They do provide calcium but it isn't a good practice because it gives the chickens a taste for egg shells and they might start eating the eggs they are laying. Instead you can give them ground oyster shells and bags of shell mix are available for sale. Chickens will balance their own diet and will only eat the amount of shells they need to get the right amount of calcium for egg production. The older ones will eat more because they need more calcium.

How long after I get chickens will they start laying?

Chickens will start laying eggs at 20 weeks old. If you buy them at this age there might be a slight adjustment period before they start laying, especially if they were traumatized in the move.

What is the benefit of free ranging chickens?

When you first get your chickens, wait a week or 10 days before you start letting them out to run, this gives them time to regard their new coop as home. Then gradually start letting them out a bit longer each day. They will quickly get into a routine and return on their own at dusk each night to the coop.

Chickens are happier when they can run around and forage for food. It gives them exercise and allows them to get the nutrients they need naturally. Keep in mind that they will most likely get into your garden and flowers and eat your plants unless you protect them with fencing or chicken wire. You also need to make sure the chickens are safe and not exposed to predators.

Do I need a rooster?

If you only want chickens for egg production then no, you do not need a rooster. If you want to set your own eggs and hatch chicks, then you need a rooster.

Will I get eggs everyday?

You will get an egg every day from each hen. In the winter months as daylight hours decrease so does egg production, providing a natural cycle of rest for the chickens.

If you are interested in raising chickens and require more information, you can contact Miramichi Feeds. They have everything you need to raise chickens, from feed and watering devices to chicken wire and egg cartons – and of course the chickens! See prices in ad below. Their staff is very knowledgeable and can put you on the right track to raising healthy chickens, whether they're laying hens or meat kings. # This & That...

My New Years resolution came to me in a dream.

In this dream, my life slowed down. Way down. In this dream, I am prepared for the long winter. My chores are done including a wood shed full of dry firewood in which I will feed my old wood cook stove. The smell of baking bread bellows from the oven and the light from the burning log flickers through the glass of the stove's door. In this dream I sit in my cabin upon my hill watching the river empty into the harbour. I watch the water rushing as if it was in a hurry to get to the harbour before the final unfrozen days of winter. I watch the storm in the comforting heat of the wood cook stove.

My final years of my life are finally slowed, my stress is non concerning. Only this moment is important. This moment is not fleeting but sustained and repeats itself. And only when I had my fill of this special moment my attention is turned to melancholy and nostalgia. And in these long winter nights I have the time to do justice to my own private thoughts and reflections of my life. What I did wrong, what I did right and my final search for God. And in my dream, the long winter days provides time to plan for the coming spring work so that I can start this lonely bliss and contentment of winter all over again.

May your vision for 2019 be pleasant for you to think about. After all it is only you who it has to satisfy.

Here We Grow Again!

The Piping Plover GastroPub was born out of a creative meeting between friends Ryan Doucet, Paul Shanks and Treena Sutherland. The idea was for a Gastropub where Great Food, Great Drinks, Great Music and a comfortable atmosphere could exist together. The menu offers finer dining options as well as traditional Pub Style food, with a little twist. Striving to serve the tastes of your childhood, along with refined palate pleasing options, they serve old fashioned baked beans with brunch items, and their fish is battered with a 40 plus year old Miramichi recipe. They also serve wine, cocktails, martinis and a HUGE selection of Craft Beer including Miramichi's own Timber Ship Brewing. Find them at 295 Pleasant Street in Newcastle and visit them on Facebook.
